Does the wine our goblets gleam in;
With hue as red as the rosy bed
Which a bee would choose to dream in."*

Montalcino Wine

2011, 2013 and 2014 Represent a Trio of Vintages that are among the best Torciano has ever collected.

Brunello di Montalcino is a wine made with 100% Sangiovese with Italy’s highest DOCG classification. All operations, vinification, aging, conservation and bottling must be carried out in this geographical area. This is the Sangiovese that most wine critics cite to be the best in all of Italy.

Whether or not it is the best is entirely up to you, but it’s one of those wines to know and perhaps try... at least once in your life.

Montalcino in the province of Siena, famous for its history and natural and artistic beauty. This wine is made exclusively from Sangiovese Grosso grapes, called “Brunello”, cultivated in hilly areas with good exposure at an altitude of 400m a.s.l. on ground which dates back to the Eocene Era. Over the years it has gradually acquired greater fragrance, a more velvety flavour, greater harmony and a delicately intense bouquet. Its color is a deep ruby red, tending to garnet with age. It has a strong personality with a dry, full, smooth, well balanced flavour.

Chianti - Chianti Classico

The World's Greatest Chianti.

The black rooster has been a symbol of power, victory, and pride for the Florentines since the 1200s, since that time, the black rooster has become a well-known symbol for great quality wine and Florentine victory over Siena.

Greve in Chianti is the only town in the province of Florence that rests entirely in the Chianti area. The origins of Greve in Chianti date to the Early Middle Ages. By the end of the 14th century, the area produced a wine much beloved by noble Sienese and Florentine families.
